

The average heart rate in an adult is 60-80 beats per minute. However it should be noted the the human's body is individual and it is always worth consulting a doctor.